

Forest faculty,
Latvia University of Life Sciences
and Technologies

Karlis Pugovics,
Guest lecturer, coordinator of international affairs

Latvia University of Life Sciences and Technologies

Located in Jelgava, Latvia.

Established in 1939.

To take over Innovawood membership from Forest and Wood Products
Research and Development Institute.

Areas of focus

Forest ecology and forestry

Wood materials and technology

Timber
construction

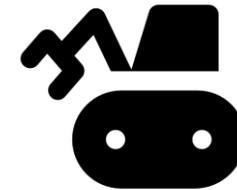

Fire reaction

Manufacturing processes

Forest economics and policy

Forest works and machinery

The students

300 students for Bachelor's level studies.

60 students for Master's level.

30 students for Doctoral level.

3
departments.

Cooperation

Estonian University of Life Sciences
Tallin University of Technology

Universita Politecnica delle Marche

University of Eastern Finland

Czech University of Life Sciences

Hedmark University of Applied Sciences

Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences

Warsaw University of Life Sciences
Poznan University of Life Sciences and Technology

Kaunas University of Technology
University of Applied Sciences

Universidad Politecnica de Madrid

Nantes Ecole Supérieure du Bois

Forest faculty,
Latvia University of Life Sciences
and Technologies

Karlis Pugovics,
Guest lecturer, coordinator of international affairs