From the airport by train

All international flights arrive at and depart from terminal 5. After you have picked up your luggage and passed through customs, walk towards 'Sky City', which is located between terminal 5 and terminal 4. All trains to Uppsala depart from 'Arlanda C', which is located in the centre of Sky City.

From Arlanda you can take two different train types. It doesn't matter which one you choose, but you need different tickets, depending on what train company you travel with. The trip to Uppsala will take you approximately 20 minutes and cost approximately 130 SEK (approx. € 13).

One of the train companies (SJ) has an information counter next to the entrance to Arlanda C, where you may ask what train comes next if you are unsure of which ticket to purchase.

Tickets may be purchased from machines by the entrance to Arlanda C.

The direction in which you wish to travel is either 'Tierp/Gävle' or 'Uppsala', depending on which train you catch. Please note that trains marked 'Stockholm' go in the opposite direction. Your stop is 'Uppsala'.

Please also note that the 'Arlanda Express' only serves Stockholm, and not Uppsala.

Please note, on your return trip to Arlanda you will need a valid train ticket to enter Arlanda C.
